FAQs for Diploma to Degree Common Entrance Test

Frequently Asked Questions for DDCET

Q-01	What is the Meaning of DDCET?
A-01	DDCET Means Diploma to Degree Common Entrance Test for admission in D to D Engineering/Pharmacy
Q-02	What is the Need of DDCET Examination?
A-02	• It is found that there is huge variation of students applied from the different boards and accordingly allocation of the seats is also varied, as the allocation of seats is based on the prorate of applicants from different boards. Accordingly, it can be summed up that particularly the students passing the diploma from small board are getting lesser in number of seats compared major board, leads students to dissatisfaction or feels they are not given equal chance of admission. • Also, due to a greater number of Boards, distribution of seats and preparation of merit list has become more complicated. Moreover, many more private institution/Universities are increasing, as a result, many universities award diploma in engineering and therefore, distribution of seats and preparation of merit list has become more complicated in future. In order to avoid such discrepancy, ambiguity, dissatisfaction among the students, and to bring all applicant students on a common and equal platform, it is suggested to introduce an entrance examination - Diploma to Degree Common Entrance Test (DDCET)
